the Florida State Epworth League conference at St. Petersburg this week, returned today. This was the largest and most interesting session of the league ever held in Florida, there being over 200 present. Nine delegates were elected to attend the great international Epworth League conference to be held in Buffalo in July. Mrs. Little among the number was also re-elected as league editor and state organizer.

Mr. Walter Scott of Sanford, N. C., who was a member of the Conekin-Russell wedding party in St. Petersburg Thursday evening, arrived this afternoon for a visit to friends.

It probably won't do any good, but the Star would recommend the people—particularly the ladies—to do their shopping as early as possible these summer evenings. There is quite a little while in the cooler part of the afternoon before supper that should be devoted to this work. It is not good policy to go into a store just before closing time—6:30—to buy a bill of goods, if it is possible to do it sooner. At that time the clerks are tired out and hungry, and the additional work is very trying on them. Several times recently the reporter has noticed counters in the drygoods stores piled with goods and lined with customers at closing time, and is tolerably certain that the shopping could have been done an hour sooner. Clerks always have to straighten up stock after sales, and when they have a rush of business just at closing time they sometimes can't go home before 8 o'clock. The greatest sufferers from this neglect are the women clerks, and the greatest sinners are the women shoppers.

GROWING CHILDREN

They Should be Protected Against Internal Uncleanliness as Well as External Contamination

The delicate organs of the maturing child are more susceptible to the influence of disease and infection than are the more seasoned organs of grown-ups. Malaria takes an early and strong hold on the child's liver and causes headaches, coated tongue, indigestion, cramps and many other dangerous conditions. These are the signal posts of warning nature provides that your child may be relieved of impending sickness.

The proven remedy, Carswell's Liver-Aid which is a purely vegetable liquid compound should be in your medicine chest ready to administer at the first sign of a disordered liver. Fifty cents purchases a large bottle at The Court Pharmacy, under the absolute guarantee that price will be returned without quibble if you want it. Ad4
